1. Introduction

FireAnts

FireAnts are little helpers!

FireAnts is a non-profit project that keeps people active combining blockchain technologies and cryptocurrencies with social media platforms. The community driven project, allows access to unique 3D modelling and 3D printing services.

ANTS, the FireAnts community token is used as social currency, to tip friends and reward content on social media channels.

The FireAnts Team is activating a release program of ANTS token according to certain schemes.

Free to join, anyone can buy ANTS token or join on our Discord server to earn airdrops, reactiondrops and rains with portions of ANTS token!

2. ERC20 Token

ANTS are ERC20 tokens, a blockchain-based asset with similar functionality to Bitcoin or Ether. It holds value and can be sent and received. The main difference between ERC20 tokens and other cryptocurrencies is that ERC20 tokens are created and hosted on the Ethereum blockchain. ERC20 tokens are stored and sent using Ethereum addresses and transactions, and use Gas to cover transaction fees.

4. What is Social Currency?

Social currencies are information shared and encourage further social encounters!

Social currency can be divided into six dimensions or levers, the so called Social Currency Wheel is an alternative to the traditional brand funnel or customer decision journey. The Social Currency Wheel evaluates the impact of social behaviors of customers on social currency with three outcomes: consideration, purchase, and loyalty.

The goal of the ANTS token is to support customers' social processes and behavior, to bring them into conversations and share of informations, therefore social media platforms are ideal environment. Specifically, ANTS allow access to services related to 3D printing in a way never seen before!
